Big time bingo proposed for Albany

- Passamaquoddy plan calls for a 1000-seat, high-stakes hall
- Would operate 27 weekends a year, April to December

By WENDY HANSCOM

The Passamaquoddy Indian tribe and an unnamed group of local investors have proposed building a 1,000-seat, high-stakes bingo hall for Albany Township.

If the plan gains all the necessary approvals, the tribe may move all its present high-stakes bingo operations from the Indian Township reservation to Albany.

According to promoters, if high-stakes bingo is brought to Albany, it could attract about 700 out-of-town players for 27 weekends a year, create up to 40 jobs and help fill up local restaurants and hotels in the skiing off-season.

Promoters say the Bethel area was ready made for a venture like this, because of the availability of hotel accommodations and restaurants during the spring, summer and fall.

The Passamaquoddy tribe currently operates a high-stakes bingo hall in Princeton. Several federal and state laws apply to the game, and lawyers are still working out the details for a bingo hall in Albany. The hall would be located just past Songo Pond on a section of old Route 5.

There is no limit to the amount of money that can be awarded in a high-stakes bingo game. By contrast, regular bingo games run by non-profit organizations are limited to awarding a total of $1,400 and the largest single cash award allowed is $400.

"The tribe has a limited number of days they are permitted to have these high-stake games," said tribal lawyer Greg Sample of Tureen &

Margolin Associates in Portland. "I think the underlying reason (for moving to Albany) is that Bethel would be the better site to have these games. I think the expectation is that the high-stakes games will switch to Bethel."

Sample said the tribe is authorized to hold the games 27 weekends (Saturday and Sunday) a year on one high-stakes bingo license.

"There is a special state statute which allows the Passamaquoddy Tribe and the Penobscot Nation to hold high-stakes bingo 27 weekends a year," Sample said. "There are a lot of other restrictions in the law about how it is operated. The underlying reason for the games is that Indian tribes differ from other parts of society in that they have their own government, programs, plans and lands, but they don't have any tax base."

"They own land, but don't tax the people that live on it. High-stakes bingo is a way for them to raise money."

"At the time (high-stakes bingo) was agreed upon it had to be held on the reservation," he said. "But that was changed a couple of years ago by the state legislature so that it could be played on Indian-owned land--usually referred to as trust land."

The tribe purchased the 18-acre parcel in Albany from Fred Meader in 1988.

Off-season lift?

If the game does move to Albany, it could provide a big boost to the number of local businessmen going into partnership with the Passamaquoddy."

Tyler declined to name the partners, but said he is the major investor in the group.

(A number of local businesspeople contacted by The Citizen professed no knowledge of the plan, and a couple of times a month on buses--about 14 buses. We'd be putting them up for one or two nights in the local motels. We also plan to take them on shopping trips. We'll try to plan different meals in different restaurants in the area."

"The restaurants and local businesses, especially local hotels, are going to prosper," Tyler said. "We'd have bus tours from Portland, Bangor, Augusta, Boston, Quebec City, Montreal, Manchester and Concord."

In addition to the high-stakes games, the Passamaquoddy will probably offer regular bingo on other weekends and possibly during the week, Tyler said. The group is currently using the Jackson-Silver Post in Locke Mills for state-limit bingo on Wednesdays.

Skiers not targeted

Tyler said the bingo promoters will not be trying to tap into the Bethel area's abundant skier traffic.

"Skiers and bingo players are two different crowds," he said. "I don't think we'll draw one percent of the skiing crowd. We plan to be open April through the first of December. So this will fit in well with other local economy.

"The Passamaquoddy want this to have a positive impact on the Bethel area," said Earl Tyler, who along with Passamaquoddy Governor Robert Newell manages the high-stakes game in Princeton. Tyler would also manage the game in Albany, he said.

"The tribe chose to ask local investors if they wanted to be involved," he said, "and we have a repeated attempts to contact Tribal Governor Robert Newell were unsuccessful."

The project, if it goes ahead, is sure to create jobs. "We're looking at employing between 37 and 42 local people," Tyler said. "We're going to be bringing money into the area. People that come to high-stakes bingo aren't normally the local folks."

"We're planning to bring players in

Education fair draws enthusiastic crowds

By WENDY HANSCOM

Scores of people turned out for the Education Fair, "Cooperating to Educate in the Telstar Region," in Gould Academy's Bingham Gym on Friday.

Exhibitors included not only traditional educational institutes, such as Gould Academy, NTL, SAD 44 schools, but also several organizations which might not normally be thought as part of the educational process--such as local historical societies and libraries, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Bethel Emergency Ambulance Service, Friends of the Androscoggin, Mahoosuc Land Trust and more.

The fair was sponsored by the Bethel Area Task Force's Education Group, which was formed at last fall's "Just Imagine" Community Conference II.

Task Force Co-chair Gwyneth

Bohr said the purpose of the fair was to recognize how many educational opportunities the greater Bethel area offers.

Other exhibitors included Outward Bound, Maine Handicapped Skiing, Even Start Program, Crescent Park PTA, Elect to Read Program and volunteer coordinators, Safer Families Project, Community Chemical Awareness Team, Elderhostel, Bethel and Woodstock libraries and historical societies, Greenwood Historical Society, SAD 44 Adult Ed, Mahoosuc Arts, Telstar High and Middle Schools programs, SAD 44 Elementary Guidance Program and more.

Bethel Rotary kicks off Christmas for kids drive

The Bethel Rotary Club is sponsoring its fifth annual Christmas for Children in the greater Bethel area this year. The project, chaired by Rotarian Dave Murphy, is designed to benefit families who might otherwise be unable to purchase presents for their children for Christmas morning.

In its first four years, this program has raised over $20,000 and provided assistance to over 200 families in the community. Many individuals, clubs and organizations have helped make this program the community success that it is.

The fundraising aspect of the program has two basic components. Murphy has already once again contacted many organizations in the area to seek their financial support. In addition, individuals in the community are also being asked to contribute whatever they can to help in this worthwhile cause.

On Dec. 15, the last day of the program, volunteers will purchase the new toys and deliver them to a central location, where they can be picked up by families requesting assistance. All toys purchased will be traditional favorites such as dolls, trucks, sports equipment, etc.

Families seeking assistance must contact Murphy in writing by Dec. 8. All requests will be kept completely confidential and should include the parents' name, address, telephone number (or if unavailable, the telephone number of a friend or relative) and the name, sex, and age of each child up to the age of 12. Requests should be mailed to Bethel Rotary Christmas for Children, HCR 61, Box 170, Bethel, Maine 04217. Requests may also be delivered to the Crescent Park School office.

Individuals in the community wishing to make financial donations are encouraged to do so. These contributions should also be sent to the above address. Donations can also be dropped off at the Crescent Park School in Bethel or Preb's Pharmacy in Bethel.

Anyone wishing additional information is urged to contact Dave Murphy at 824-2839 (office) or 824-2041 (home).

The goal for this year is $7,000, which must be raised in just over a month.

Bethel selectmen seek water work compromise

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen voted unanimously Monday evening that the town will honor its full contract with Couture Construction for Phase Three of the Downtown Revitalization Project--whether or not the Bethel Water District agrees to remain in the project.

Monday's vote apparently removes the threat that the water district's objections will delay the final phase of the revitalization work, which began two weeks ago.

The water district, which originally asked to be included in the contract, later challenged the allocation of cost to its own (relatively small) portion of the project. The district trustees recently threatened to withdraw from the project if a satisfactory financial compromise with the town could not be worked out.

The district's complaints were apparently well grounded. At Monday's meeting Town Manager Madeleine Henley told the board that Sonny Couture, the construction company's owner, had told her that the cost of the insurance bond for the entire $722,930 project had been included in the water district's portion.

In its successful bid for Phase Three ($36,502 less than the next lowest bid) Couture had charged $29,450 for the water district work--considerably more than the district's share in the other three bids received for Phase Three.

No representatives of the water district were present Monday, but at an earlier meeting this month, trustees John Head and Jack Brooks, along with Supervisor Bob Saunders, objected heatedly to the Couture price, and threatened to withdraw entirely from the project.

At that earlier meeting the selectmen eventually offered to compromise, and to pay an additional $2,025 toward the water dis-

Andover hearing:

Schachter, selectmen make their cases

By CAVENAUGH KELLY

At Thursday's hearing on her termination, former Andover administrative assistant Rebecca Schachter said she is still unclear why she was reprimanded and later fired by the town's Board of Selectmen.

Final testimony from both sides of the issue was given Thursday, the second and final night of a hearing to determine if selectmen had just cause to fire Schachter in September.

Each attorney is expected to submit closing arguments in writing to hearing examiner Ronald Lebel.

Lebel said he hopes to have a final decision on whether selectmen had good cause to fire Schachter one week after receiving those closing statements.

Schachter's attorney, Robert Hark, said Friday that Schachter would "presumably be reinstated" if Lebel rules there is no just cause. Hark would not speculate if any other type of agreement would be reached between the two parties if just cause isn't found.

Schachter was poised and direct on the witness stand in refuting earlier testimony given by Selectmen Raymond Hutchins and Brian Mills.

Over 50 people crowded into the town hall to see Schachter testify along with Hutchins and former Town Clerk Kathy Williamson on the selectmen's behalf and former Selectman Fred Emerson for Schachter's side.

Hutchins testified Schachter was fired because she had an attitude problem with the board and she was unable to complete minutes, com-

Do-able economic development

I'm no economist; I can't tell you where a "recession" ends and a "depression" begins. I do know that there won't be any real economic recovery in western Maine until businesses are able to market their products or services well enough to create more jobs, more profit and more investment. We must have all three to create prosperity.

Creating more jobs/products/investment--and the tax base they bring--is called "economic development." How do we achieve that? There are only three possibilities: attract businesses from elsewhere, create new ones, or help existing ones grow. One at a time:

1. Attract businesses from elsewhere.

Should we go out and find a new shoe or dowel or paper or widget manufacturer who will move in and bring 100 or 400 new jobs? This was the name of the game for many years.

No. It's expensive and hasn't worked very often in western Maine. Would you relocate a company here, far from airports or interstate highways, and with high energy costs? Especially when the recession has opened thousands of square feet of commercial/industrial space right on interstates, near major airports, anywhere you choose between Portland and Atlanta or beyond? Our labor force here is very good and the country is beautiful, but really cheap labor is available overseas. Few companies are expanding and the competition is fierce.

2. Create new businesses.

Should we "grow" entrepreneurs, help people get the training, money or markets they need to start a small enterprise?

Maybe. Entrepreneurism isn't just a loan or a skill you can learn from a book. You can't teach someone the drive, creativity, determination and other traits needed for success in a new business. The world usually does not beat a path to your door for a better mousetrap. We can and should make it easier for people to start businesses--provide classes and resources and start-up loans and more--but they have to offer the spark.

3. Help existing businesses grow.

Should we provide business people both training or mentoring in finances, planning, and marketing; small expansion loans; help them share ideas and overhead costs if they're willing?

Yes. Why put money--from taxpayers or private investors--into struggling enterprises that are barely making it through the recession? Because they are in business. They started on their own, have contributed to our tax base and community employment, and have stayed open despite tough times.

Not every business will survive; not everyone deserves special help. But the most effective way to create jobs, profits and investment in this region is to help the people who already have demonstrated entrepreneurship.

I'm not saying "What's good for business is good for western Maine." Private enterprises need to be responsible citizens in our communities, to pay their own way. However, we can do more and we must do more if we want to expand jobs, profits, investment and the tax base in our communities. Small- to mid-sized companies have great potential for growth, but many of them in western Maine are not being supported effectively.

There are strategies for accomplishing these goals. As I'm fond of saying, it doesn't take rocket science. Norway/South Paris and Rumford/Mexico are two areas that have taken strides in this direction. We need to re-create an earlier situation in which local towns were hubs of economic activity and much more. We can do this using our forest resources, agricultural potential, self-sufficient citizens and proven models and success stories.

puter adjustments, price tape recorders, paperwork for a Maine Jobs Bond application and abatements as requested.

Schachter said the reprimand in May by selectmen that led to her firing caught her completely by surprise.

"I had every understanding up to the moment they delivered (the reprimand), that things had been going well," she said.

At that time the selectmen made only one concern--that she was driving a wedge between the board--clear to her and refused to acknowledge a second apparent concern, Schachter said.

"They also said there was an unexpressed issue that they would only discuss in executive session," said Schachter, who waived the right to executive session. "I couldn't comply with an unexpressible demand, which they would not explain."

In response to Hutchins' allegations, Schachter said she was never told to catch up on the minutes, make software adjustments on the computer, or that she had an attitude problem with the board.

Earlier, a composed Hutchins testified that the current board was doing more than previous boards and as a result, cutting down on Schachter's responsibilities and work time.

Hutchins said Schachter was reprimanded because she "overstepped her duties" by alleging to Hutchins over the phone that Mills was illegally setting wages outside of a public meeting.

Hutchins said Schachter "was doing basically what she wanted to do" with little direction from selectmen. He said she changed her attitude toward Mills after the reprimand only to become less cooperative with the entire board.

But former Andover Selectman Fred Emerson minced few words when asked to describe Mills' attitude toward Schachter.

"Extremely negative," replied Emerson.

Emerson said Mills regularly brought up unfounded agenda items on Schachter, administrative assistant since March of 1989.

Emerson, who was a selectman for three years, said Mills stopped only after he was told not to bring up matters concerning Schachter unless it was a new matter.

Williamson, a town employee since 1984, said she once argued with Schachter over the former administrative assistant's criticism of the current Board of Selectmen regarding alleged illegal meetings.

I told her "other boards haven't acted any differently than this one," said Williamson. "She didn't seem to have the same difficulties with other boards."

Williamson said Schachter was not given as much leeway to do her job with the current selectmen and she regularly complained about the selectmen, especially Mills.

When questioned by Hark, Williamson also said to her knowledge the previous boards she was involved with had no attitude or job performance problems with Schachter.

Williamson also testified she was able to perform most of Schachter's job duties within a 20 hour week prior to Schachter's arrival.

Selectmen have alleged Schachter made unfounded complaints about her hours being reduced to 25 a week and she should have been able to keep up with her work with the reduced hours.

Schachter also related a history of problems with Mills during her testimony.

"He (Mills) said repeatedly during meetings he did not have an understanding of what I did," she said.

Schachter told Mills to come see what she did during the day and she filled out a detailed log, at Delano's request, outlining her work week.

"Brian said that (log) was useless to him and he still didn't understand what I did," said Schachter.

When Mills first came on board she tried to involve him more in what was going on in the office, she said.

"He didn't seem to want to talk to me. It was very disconcerting," said Schachter. She said that as a result, she talked more with Delano and Hutchins.

"They talked back," she said.

Schachter said she was also justified in expressing concerns to Hutchins that Mills was setting wages outside of a meeting, something selectmen said led to her reprimand.

"Brian committed town money outside a meeting," said Schachter. "That was in fact the truth."

Schachter said the current board "was not as scrupulous" at conducting legal meetings.

Schachter said after selectmen cut her hours, she "was not able to keep up with her work" resulting in her falling behind.

Moses Mason House

On Nov. 12 the Crescent Park School fifth-grade social studies class visited the Dr. Moses Mason House for a morning of museum tours and a variety of hands-on old time crafts.

Veteran guides Judy Haskell and Persis Post provided tours of the museum, while Rev. Jean Bass and Mabel Kennett led instruction in quilting, Patty Brown instructed in basket making, Audrey Brooke led stencilling and Alden Kennett instructed in funnel making and grinding corn meal. Students emerged from these sessions with their own efforts at stencilling, with a finished basket, their individually sewn quilt squares, and trunnels and corn meal that they produced. Much appreciation is due all of the above for their volunteer efforts in making this educational program such a success.

businesses. We won't be jamming it up during the ski season. Bookings are tough to get during ski season."

Tyler said the games in Princeton have had moderate success, but that hotel facilities and restaurants are not as abundant as in the greater Bethel area, and players must be bused long distances from major cities to Calais.

Regulating hurdles

Tyler and Sample met with Land Use Regulation Commission staff last month, according to Catherine Varney, LURC supervisor of the Development Review Division.

"They proposed, at least when they met with us, putting up a 25,000 square foot building that would seat up to 1,000 people,"

Varney said. "They will need a development permit application for the building, parking lot and septic system. They'd also have to put in a rezoning application from general management to general development. We allow entertainment facilities in a general development zone."

Sample, the tribe's attorney, said he is now preparing the LURC permit application, and construction will probably begin as soon as LURC grants the necessary permits.

Tyler said the tribe hopes to open the hall by February.

No casino games planned for Albany

The Passamaquoddy Indians' plan to establish high-stakes bingo in Albany Township is unrelated to the tribe's recently announced proposal to site a full-scale gambling casino in Calais, according to Earl Tyler.

The Calais proposal was presented last week to the City Council, which called for a non-binding public referendum on the matter.

The Passamaquoddy's have proposed to build a $10 million casino in the Downeast port, primarily to attract gamblers from Nova Scotia.

Tyler said that financing for the Calais casino was coming from foreign, primarily Japanese, investors.

He said there are no plans to upgrade the tribe's operation in Albany (assuming present plans go through) to include casino gambling.

CCAT AWARENESS

To the Editor:

We are members of the Community Chemical Awareness Team (Ccat), encompassing the towns of Greenwood, Woodstock, Bethel, Newry and Andover. Our commitment is to provide leadership and support in education and awareness programs for the prevention of substance abuse in these communities.

Our first community awareness event will be a panel discussion on creating partnerships for a healthier community. The panelists will be:

Dane Tripp--Oxford Hills coordinator, Western Maine Community Partnership

Mark Swett--employee assistance program coordinator, Boise Cascade

Nathan Seckinger--coordinator of Ccat community member.

Lynn Mason--director, Safer Families Program, Bethel Area Health Center

Ken Hann--personnel manager, Bridgton Knitting Mills

Becky Hardy--licensed clinical social worker, Tri-County Mental Health

The meeting will be on Tuesday, Dec. 8 from 7:30 to 9:30 at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

We look forward to your participation in this event. Together we can raise the awareness of the effects of substance abuse, and take steps to mitigate its impact on our businesses and communities.

LOOKING BACK

10 years ago: The former Spruce Mountain Snow Sports Club was reorganized with a new name, Greenstock Snow Sports, emphasizing maintenance and grooming of both main and connecting snow machine/cross country ski trails. Keith Wilson, son of Keith and Sally Mills Wilson, participated with the Salem, N.H. High School Band in the Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day parade. Births: Ian Clough, Diana Blake, Megan McBride.

20 years ago: The Gould Academy Cross Country squad won the New England Prep School Cross Country Championship. Sunday River Skiway Corporation announced a tentative agreement had been reached to sell the skiway to the Sherburne Corporation, owner of the Killington Ski Resort of central Vermont. Angevine's Skidoo Shop was broken into in a nighttime break (now the site of Carmela's Pizza on Main Street). Birth: Heidi Moore. Marriage: Judy Sussman and Gregory Morrill. Deaths: Kenneth Meecham, Kate Whitman.

30 years ago: Colwyn and Judy Haskell moved into their new home on Paradise Street. Miss Alice Ballard's and Mrs. Maxine Brown's classes were moved from Ethel Bisbee School to Crescent Park School to allow two classrooms to be moved upstairs in the Bisbee School building. Birth: Michael Vancil, Melinda Merrill. Marriages: Mary Gilman and Edwin Parker; Karen Polkonen and Alan Myette. Deaths: Sherman Greenleaf, Debby Burnstein, Wallace Peterson, Arthur Ramsdell.

40 years ago: Dorothy Kirkpatrick purchased the Marvel Hanscom House on Vernon Street (now the home of David and Marcia Denison). Birth: Sally Deegan.

50 years ago: Clarence McAllister was shot in the left leg while riding a bicycle near the Bumpus Mine in Albany by a negligent hunter, Richard Merriam of Auburn. Leslie Davis' sawmill on the Middle Intervale Road burned to the ground. Theodore Cummings and Lee Swan enlisted as Aviation Cadets. Lt. Milan Chapin arrived in the Middle East. Ina Bean, R.N., joined a Red Cross unit for Army service. Olive Douglass received a letter of thanks from a young man in the Royal Air Force for socks she had knitted and which he had received from the British War Relief Society. Marriages: June Woodworth and Ernest Scolthorne; Bertha Scribner and Leon Luce; Thelma Brownell and Albert Judkins.

From the Bethel Police log: Sign sprayers stymied; several minor accidents

Jeremy Rogers, 18, of Windham and Paul Peterson, 18, of Raymond, were stopped Saturday night by Gayland Bracket of the Maine Warden Service after Bracket saw the pair acting suspiciously near a sign on Mill Hill.

Bracket asked Bethel police to check out the stop sign at the bottom of Mill Hill. Police reported it had been sprayed with white paint. Bracket told police that when he stopped the suspects' vehicle the passenger had tried to hide a can of white spray paint under the vehicle's seat. Police issued the men a summons for criminal mischief.

Police also responded to a number of minor motor vehicle accidents. Police were at an accident on the Sunday River Road Wednesday morning. A vehicle tipped onto its side after hitting a patch of ice and going into a ditch. Police estimated the damage at $500.

Wednesday evening, Owen Brown of Bethel reported hitting a moose on Route 26 near the Chandler Hill Road. Brown was uninjured. Damage was done mainly to the passenger-side door. The moose walked away from the accident. The Warden Service was notified.

Dolores Williams reported early Thursday morning hitting a deer on the North West Bethel Road. The deer ran into the woods. Police estimated the damage at about $100 to the vehicle's headlight.

Later Thursday morning, police responded to a two vehicle accident in the Western Maine Lumber Supply parking lot. A vehicle backing out of a parking space hit the fender of David Carter of Bethel's vehicle. Police estimated the damage to Carter's vehicle at about $500. The other vehicle was not damaged.

In other police news last week, Nancy Anderson of Chandler Hill reported finding a female huskie-type dog in the parking lot at Bethel Furniture Stock. Another mill employee agreed to care for the dog until its owner could be found. Inquiries about the dog should be directed to the Bethel police.

Damenic Ciolino, 32, no address given, was arrested last Tuesday after a traffic stop by Officer Bruce Korhonen for driving with a suspended license.

Gary Roshto, Jr., 24, of Rumford was arrested Saturday by Officer Darren Tripp on an outstanding warrant for failure to pay a fine.

Selectmen

trict's share of the project.

But at their own subsequent meeting, the water district trustees turned down the compromise as inadequate.

Henley said she had been told by Brooks that "$2,000 is just not closing the gap enough."

At issue is how much of the work is paid for by town taxpayers as a whole (the town's portion) or by Water district customers only (the district's portion).

Henley urged the selectmen Monday to consider further compromise. "It not fair to the water users to ask them to take on that added expense," she said. "We have Jobs Bond money and we're still getting a very good price. This sort of fighting over 2 or 4 or $6,000 is not what any of us want to be remembered for."

The selectmen apparently agreed in principle but were reluctant to set a new figure for fear the water district trustees would be back later to haggle over it.

"I'm a water district customer," said Selectman Henry Dombkowski (all of the selectmen are), "and for me to be hassling over whether the money comes out of my left pocket or my right pocket isn't doing anybody any good."

Selectmen Chairman Arlan Jodrey concurred. "I know it's a hard pill to swallow, but I think we ought to pay the money and get on with it."

But fellow Selectman Norm Putnam was unwilling to compromise further without some give from the water district. "I'm not going to move any more until they give us a figure," Putnam said. "I think that the fact that they haven't come back with a figure shows they're not really ready to be part of a community effort to resolve this."

The board ultimately voted to honor the full contract and to have Henley attempt to work out a compromise with the district trustees.

User fees OKed

The selectmen Monday also approved Fiscal Year 1993 (July 1, 1992 to June 30, 1993) user fees for fire, ambulance, landfill and transfer station use by surrounding towns and Oxford County.

Most of the fees are at the same level as comparable FY 1992 fees—except for a $2,000 increase to Hanover (from $23,000 to $25,000) for landfill/transfer station costs.

The board, however, tabled Henley's proposal for increased FY 94 fees—including a 70 percent increase ($10,000 to $17,000) in Newry's fee to use the Bethel landfill for construction and demolition debris, tires and white goods.

The proposed Newry fee is based on an anticipated increase in expenses and on the projected volume of waste generated, Henley said. It is also dependent on DEP approving continued use of the landfill for such debris.

But Selectman John Thurston balked at hiking Newry's fee without a more detailed justification. "There's so damn much acrimony between the towns now," he said, "if we start shoveling a 70 percent increase we'd be opening a can of worms."

It was agreed to study the matter further before setting the FY 94 rates.

In other business Monday, Neal Donovan was appointed to the Recreation Committee and Richard Hosterman was appointed Civil Emergency Preparedness director.

Color us recycled

REDUCE, REUSE, RECYCLE—The Oxford County Regional Solid Waste Corporation is sponsoring a coloring contest for SAD 44 kindergarten through sixth-grade students. Prizes for kindergarten through second-graders are 24-inch stuffed Ralph and Rita bears. Two $50 savings bonds will be presented to the winning third-through sixth-graders. Participants can send their completed work along with their name, age, address and phone number to: The Bethel Citizen, P.O. Box 109, Bethel, Maine, 04217. All entries should be submitted by Nov. 30. The contest will be judged by the directors of OCSRWC on Dec 2.

Keep the holiday liquor runs legal

With the holiday season upon us, the Maine Bureau of Liquor Enforcement is reminding residents about the legal limits of alcohol that can be transported into Maine.

Bureau Director John S. Martin said Maine law allows one gallon of wine, one gallon of hard liquor and a single case of beer, per vehicle, can be transported into the state without being purchased here.

Maine Liquor Enforcement Officers will be stepping up enforcement action during November and December.

Martin said, "Any driver caught transporting more than the legal limit is subject to arrest, a fine of up to $1,000 and a year in jail." In addition, Martin said any illegal liquor will be seized.

NOTES FROM

Telstar Guidance

With the second quarter now underway, counselors Dan Hart and Beth LaVallee encourage all high school parents to attend tomorrow night's (Thursday's) open house from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. to check on how their students performed the first nine weeks of school. Report cards will be distributed and teachers will be available in their classrooms for mini-conferences.

On Nov. 6, Dan Hart hosted a successful College Admissions Workshop for 40 seniors. Guest speakers were Fred Stone of St. Joseph's College, Wendy Ault of the University of Maine at Farmington, Dick Gross, Mid-State College, Betsy Strickler of the University of New England, Rick Perry of Husson College and Kathleen Tremblay of New Hampshire Technical College, Berlin. Every senior received 10-minute presentations on topics ranging from the college application process to social adjustment from high school to college.

Two more seniors in the class of '93 have finalized their post-secondary plans by enlisting in the United States Navy. James Cyr Jr., son of James Cyr of Locke Mills, will specialize in aviation ordnance while classmate, Kirk Thornton trains in interior communications. Kirk is the son of H. Deborah Fitzgerald of Woodstock and Eric Thornton of Florida.

Telstar warmly welcomed three new students last week. They are sophomore and Costa Rican exchange student, Hazel Molina, sophomore, Steven Cramton formerly of Plymouth, N.H. and freshman, Cecelia Ricci, a transfer

MAISAD FALL WINNERS--Gould Academy won four Maine Independent Schools' tournaments or championship meets this fall. from Buckfield High School.

Many special activities are planned in the coming weeks. On Nov. 20, a group of students from East Boston High School will visit classes at Telstar and spend the rest of the weekend in the Bethel area. Sunday, Nov. 22, the National Honor Society will host their annual Senior Citizen Thanksgiving dinner at 1 p.m. Later in the week, on Nov. 25, Dan Hart and guidance volunteer, Marge Kessler, will take 10 juniors and seniors to an all day psychology symposium offered at U.M.F. then, on Dec. 3 from 7 to 8:30 p.m., the Guidance Department will host a parent workshop on teen sexuality. Guest speaker will be Maureen Page, RN of Tri-County Family Planning, East Wilton. This will be the first in a series of parent workshops. Subsequent workshops include chemical awareness/law enforcement on Jan. 14, parent and teen communications, Feb. 25 and AIDS March 25. Counselors encourage all high school parents to attend these very important programs.

Mr. Hart and Mrs. LaVallee now have 13 Self groups, the Peer Tutor program, CHOICES career information services and the Job Bank now providing weekly services to students. Parents or community members wishing to access any of the services, please contact the Guidance office at 824-2138.

Hutchins, Otten are Gould class Reps.

Katy Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Hutchins of Bethel, and Meredith Otten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Otten of Newry, have been elected class representatives at Gould Academy. Each class elects three students to the position, who are responsible for organizing school functions and weekend activities. Both girls are also members of the Gould Academy Choir.

TELSTAR ALUMNI SOCCER PLAYERS EXCEL AT SMTC

Southern Maine Technical College soccer team co-captains Bruce Korhonen of West Bethel and Tim Chapman of Gilead lead the SMTC Techs to a 8-8-1 record this season. Senior forward Korhonen scored 19 goals and posted 2 assists. He scored in 13 of SMTC's 17 matches. Goalender Chapman recorded 132 saves throughout the season. He tended goal in 13 matches. SMTC captured the Maine Small College Conference regular-season championship this year.

Fifth-grade classes from the Crescent Park School attended a special presentation at the Moses Mason House last week. Students participated in several events tied in with their social studies program.

Alden Kennett demonstrated making hand-made oak pegs and grinding corn into meal. Audrey Brooke taught students how to stencil, while Patty Brown gave a lesson in basketmaking. Jean Bass and Mabel Kennett taught the basics of handquilting. Students worked in small groups and rotated to each station. Judy Haskell and Persis Post led tours through the house for each group.

JUNGLE BOOK

The Crescent Park School PTA will sponsor a showing of "The Jungle Book" on Saturday, Nov. 21 at Telstar at 1:30 p.m. and again at 6:30. Cost of admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for children. Popcorn will be sold by The Lions Club.

By CONSTANCE BROADBENT

Dear Sir or Madam;

It has come to my attention that you have a vacation package that might be just the thing for my neighbors and me. We've been on the go in our little village since the first snow was spotted on the mountaintops, and we expect the pace to quicken as we move into the holiday mode. When all is finished, we figure that we'll need to collapse at a getaway of our choice.

It all began recently with a public supper at the grange hall. We cooked on woodstoves and electric stoves all day in order to serve up corned beef and cabbage to a happy throng of Patrons of Epicure who rewarded us Patrons of Husbandry with praise and pays for our efforts. The boost to the fisc was worth the crying time over the onions...

Last week at our Union Church, the annual bazaar proved to be the most successful ever. In spite of, or because of the tenuous times, folks bought our baked goods, our handcrafts, our 'fancy work'. They filed along the 'cookie walk'; they sat for 'tea'; they took chances on the beautiful quilt.

Then with hardly a breather, we sat and planned for the Thanksgiving and Christmas activities... Between now and then, we'll dash through a couple of fellowship suppers, choir rehearsals, hymn sings, childrens' pageants, and Christmas parties. We'll make and sell a few hundred wreaths. There will be the 'regular' appearance of St. Nick at the annual sup-sing-and-trim-the-tree 'do' at the church. And there will also be an 'Afternoon with Santa' on Dec. 13.

That encounter will be by reservation only. Hosted by Santa and his elves, offering refreshments, stories, and gifts, it should be a quality visit with the rotund red man, and a harbinger of future fun...watch for announcements and the reservation number...

For the remainder of this month, while some of us bake and make, shop and plan, others of the orange headress continue to roam the woods in search of the elusive elk... (I know, it's 'deer'...but elk fits better). Some will bag their buck; they'll eat venison for the winter. Some will get but a glimpse, or a missed shot. They will feast on their communion with the forest as they share their stories and their hopes with others in orange.

Meanwhile, at my end of the Flat Road, the partridge visits our feeding areas daily, clinging precariously to slender branches as he plucks the frozen berries, ignoring the gunfire in the distance, safe in the sanctuary that we provide...with hunters in the family, that's actually an editorial 'we'! And in the wee hours of the morn, the deer troop silently up from the brook and over our hill as they head across the greater heights of Sparrowhawk Mountain in search of yet another breakfast.

During the flurry of the season, we've welcomed Doris Brown and Raymond Saunders back to the healthy side of the street. We've said good-bye to Bud and Shirley Clough, Iva Abramson, Clara Rolfe, and a few of Casandra Perez' baby teeth. We've seen the Sunday School increase in size as it grows in enthusiasm. We've turned over the last of the fields and gardens, lifted and stored the bulbs, washed the windows for the last time, put away the pools, aired out the long johns and the wool sweaters.

When the turkeys have been gobbled and the geese cooked, we of the country village will go in search of a few days' serenity. We will gladly take down the decorations, put away the trimmings, and be anxious to slip off to your silent retreat. There we hope to carve a few decadently do-nothing diems as we loiter in your loungers and tarry at your tables.

I am enclosing the necessary deposit for the forty-nine rooms; please don't tell your activity director that we're coming...Best regards for a happy holiday season.

Love, C.B.

By COLISTA MORGAN

Hello, again for I'm gaining. How quickly life can change. Since that morning near the last of October I have suffered much with broken ribs and bruises. On my way to feed the birds I slipped on my porch steps and fell. It was a strange feeling to be down and all alone. But I did manage to get up and into the house. Just then a neighbor arrived and gave me help in calling my sister-in-law to get my doctor and the ambulance. I was at the hospital for several days and since then with Leonas and Fay Holt. If all goes well I may return home and begin over.

I'm home today Nov. 8 for awhile. I looked for my chipmunk who was here when I left but he has vanished into the earth's darkness. On swift scampering feet he has pattered inquisitively, along galleries of his burrow and holds a nut in his little forepaws, twisting and turning it to take the husk away. He has entered hibernation in the quiet dark; his heart beat quiets, he sighs, and enters enormous nothingness until spring.

For so many cards, flowers and kindnesses all I can say is "Thank You all for everything."

TAX TIPS FOR THE ELEVENTH HOUR

This article is brought to you by Jane D. Gray, CPA
Most of the steps you can take to cut your 1992 taxes must be taken by December 31st. Here are some suggestions for end-of-the-year tax cutting moves you might want to consider.
• If you'll be able to itemize deductions on your 1992 tax return, squeeze in more deductions before year-end. For example, pay outstanding property taxes and state and local income tax. Accelerate planned charitable contributions by making them before December 31st.
• If you don't have the cash to pay for a tax deductible item, consider using your credit card. You'll get the deduction in 1992 even though you'll pay the credit card company in 1993.
• If you could itemize deductions and your adjusted gross income will exceed $105,250, you may want to try deferring some income to 1993. That's because itemized deductions are cut by 3% of adjusted gross income over $105,250.
• If you're planning a change in marital status as of December 31st determines your tax status for the entire year. Postponing a wedding or a divorce might save taxes.
• Investors should check the tax consequences of sales made so far in 1992. If gains exceed losses, consider selling some more losses before year-end. If you have losses, you may want to take some gains before year-end. Remember that after gains and losses have been netted, you can deduct up to $3,000 of excess losses against other income such as your salary. Net losses in excess of $3,000 must be carried forward to future years.
• If you're in business, consider making gifts before year-end to employees, customers, or clients. They're deductible up to $25 each.
• Don't put it off; act now to lower this year's taxes. If we can be of assistance, please call.

Andover

By KAREN MCKAY

Twelve East Andover Community Club members met on Nov. 9 with Mary Bailey. Phyllis Farrar was co-hostess.

Reports were read and accepted. Voted to extend an invitation to Helena Goodwin and Joan Carney to join the group. There are two honorary members, Blanche Schneider and Lila Farrington.

Our annual meeting will be Dec. 7 with Violet Swain. It was voted at the October meeting to have the club's year end Dec. 31 instead of Nov. 30.

Betty Moore won the door prize. Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain spent a week recently in New Orleans and attended his first reunion, in 47 years, of the 78th Troop Carrier Squadron, 435th Troop Carrier Group.

Several activities are taking place at the library. Amnesty week will be held Nov. 16-21. There will be no fines for returned overdue books. In celebration of children's book week, Nov. 16-21, the library has scheduled a story hour at 3 p.m. on Nov. 19 for ages preschool through sixth grade. There will be an exhibit of paintings by Sharon Hutchins and Judy Hall. Mrs. Hall will demonstrate her techniques and be available to answer questions on Sat. Nov. 21, 1:30-4:30.

Ellis River Rider Club members who plan to attend the annual banquet and dance to be held on Saturday, Nov. 21 should contact Debbie at 392-2381 ASAP with your RSVP. Order your decorated Christmas wreath from the Class of 1995. The wreaths sell for $8 and are decorated with a large red bow. You can reserve a wreath by signing up at the local stores, or call Sharon Hutchins at 392-4351 to place your order. All proceeds are to benefit the scholarship fund.

Calvary Congregational Church

Morning worship service started at 10:45 a.m. Call to worship with hymn "Tell Me the Story of Jesus." Pastor Waite had a dedication of the Sunday School teachers today, with Marge Stinson giving out corsages to each teacher; Joan Waite had a special children's story following the dedication; the choir sang: "A Perfect Heart," responsive reading led by Scot Farrington Jr. 19:14-20:9; Pastor Waite's message: "Passion For Souls." We are trustees of the Gospel of Christ as believers, God has called us to a mission. Norma Farrington led junior church.

The age for junior church has been changed to include ages three through grade three only.

Pastor Waite sang a solo "It Will Be Worth It All," at the close of the service.

Sunday at 2 p.m. "You Can Tell It" video #2 was shown.

Every Friday at the church starting at 3 p.m. AWANA programs.

Nov. 17 at 11 a.m. Pastor's Prayer Fellowship in Bryant Pond.

Nov. 29 through Dec. 1 special meetings with Harold Duff.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

Nine deer have been tagged at the Upton Trading Post. Only one of these hunters had signed up for the Big Buck and Bear contest. Jean Claud Gagnon of Nashua, N.H. shot an eight point, 172 pound buck on Nov. 5 and won the first buck slot. Thirty-four contestants entered before the deadline of Oct. 31 and are eligible for the other prizes which are percentages of the take.

The next derby will be in mid-winter for ice-fishing. Contact the Trading Post for the date.

The Jordan's have a line of homemade preserves at the Trading Post called Uncle Ron's Mountain Preserves. They include apple butter, apple jelly, strawberry, blueberry and apple maple jams. Most of the fruit was grown in Upton including the strawberries from Heritage Farm.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

On Nov. 10 the Stoneham Knight Riders Snowmobile Club met for their regular meeting with about 20 members in attendance with president Eben Harmon presiding. Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Old and new business was discussed and taken care of. The yearly activity calendar was discussed and hopefully will be ready for the next meeting. The drawings were done on the raffles and the following people were the winners: Bill Hunt, Miriam Eastman, Todd Harrison, Merle Barker on the first drawings and Steve Brill, Bob Wyman, Jim Lane and Miriam Eastman on the second drawings. Of course all members are hoping for some good snow cover this winter. The next meeting will be the Christmas Tree party, with exchange of gifts and potluck supper on Dec. 8 at the Stoneham Fire Station for club members. At Tuesday's meeting, Fred Fox won the red-nosed reindeer that was raffled off which Duffer Ridlon donated. At the next meeting a pretty lighted Christmas tree will be raffled off.

The Stoneham Volunteer Firemen were called out Sunday night to a structure fire on the hut road in West Stoneham across from Bill Laivo's. The Stoneham Rescue was called out also but no injuries were reported.

Edward Millett and Ellery and Charles Lawrence were lucky deer hunters this past week, also Frank and Dot Packard and Roy Smith.

Joshua Jones has been working for Albert Nelson, Sr. sawing wood this past week.

Geneva Tripp took Gladys Kilgore to a doctor in Bridgton this past week as her cat accidentally made a deep cut into her arm.

I have a pretty Christmas cactus all abloom (is that a word?), which tells us what will be here before we know it. Are you all ready?

We heard from daughter in Ankara, Turkey Saturday and she is busy volunteering in the children's school and going to Turkish language classes. She says the language is much harder than the German language which she learned to speak quite fluently while there. Knowing her, she will conquer the Turkish language too and will be able to converse with the people on and off the base there.

On Tuesday, Nov. 10 the members of the Stoneham Republicans met with the rest of the Oxford County Republicans at the C.N. Brown Conference Room at So. Paris with a potluck supper and meeting. Congratulations and praise was given to the candidates who won an office and to those who worked so hard on the campaigns. Eleanor Nelson won the 50-50 raffle and Rudi Honkala won the lighted Christmas tree which the Stoneham members made and donated. Many thanks goes to the committee that sets up and cleans up for these supper meetings which makes for an enjoyable evening. I believe the next meeting will be at the same place on Dec. 8. Members are reminded to bring in favorite recipes for the new recipe booklet being put together for a later project.

North Newry

By GIL SEELEY

The Newry Mothers' Club met Monday night, Nov. 9 at the Town Building with president Eleanor Davis presiding. Business was accomplished without the presence of the treasurer and the secretary. The food sale was postponed to a later date. Cards were sent to the Seniors and shut-ins by sunshine lady, Olive Anderson. Thanksgiving baskets will be made and delivered by Karlene Bachelder and Gil Seeley, also to the Seniors and shut-ins. The next meeting, Dec. 14 at 6 p.m., will be a Christmas party at the Town Building, potluck and exchange of gifts, and revealing the names of their secret pals, and picking the ones for the next year.

The Christmas tree lighting will be Sunday, Nov. 29, potluck supper and cookies donated by the recreation committee. The time will be noted later. The mystery prize was won by Helen Morton. Meeting was adjourned, and refreshments were served by the snack committee Sylvia Wight, Nancy Wight and Gil Seeley.

The Windy Valleys Sno-Mobile Club will meet Thursday, Nov. 19 at Sandy and Leon Dunn's residence at 7 p.m.

The "Newry Bowling Gang" were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford. Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Bea Lowell, Doris Parent and Sylvia attended. Olive Anderson, a member who is recuperating from an operation was a guest, also were Rena Powers and Jim Anderson. Of the "lefties" Karlene was top scorer with three strings of over 100 for a total of 314. Of the "righties" Sylvia was high on the singles and triples. Karlene had four spares and two strikes. Betsy had three spares, Gil three spares, Sylvia one spare and Doris one strike and one spare.

"A prayer for the United States of America...God of our Hearts...We pray that you will keep the United States in your Holy Protection, That you will cause the Hearts of the Citizens to cultivate a spirit of obedience to the government...And finally that you will graciously frame the minds of our officials to do justice to all. We pray also that we will be in a receptive frame of mind to love mercy, and conduct ourselves with Charity, Humility, and peaceful temper which were the Characteristics of the Divine Author of our blessed beliefs. That without these things we can never hope to be a happy Nation. AMEN"

Shoot...Don't Shoot...What's going on? First a dog then another dog, then a cow, a donkey, a horse...a person, what else is left? Am I safe in going to my mail box? These hunters need some training. When we lived in Rhode Island over 25 years ago, my husband, a state licensed gun dealer and safety instructor used to have to train young hunters of 16 years old before they could have a license to carry a gun. We always had heard that Maine was 20 years behind the times...Was that a true maxim?

North Paris

By DORIS C. LAWRENCE

Monday, Nov. 9 I went to two different doctors, then visited niece Ruby Wing in her new mobile home.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Carl Piirainen.

Wednesday, Nov. 11 they sanded Trap Corner hill. It's too early for that.

Monday, Fannie Whitten's son from Massachusetts came to take his mother back home. She helped immensely on our last supper. She also put up the new curtains in the kitchen.

Thursday, Nov. 12 Mary Smith, Dora Dingley and I went to the Oxford County Senior Citizens meeting at the South Paris fire hall. It was a delicious Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Sr. and son, David from Massachusetts spent the day Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher. The men folks went hunting. No Luck.

Callers have been Joe and Madge Vatcher, Ian Isley, Sharon Silver, Francis Brooks, Laura Heikkinen, Fannie Whitten, and Carrie Hammond was in selling magazines.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Chase on their 70th wedding anniversary, such a nice couple. They were always so friendly.

Elderwood Manor

By FLORENCE HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Hurley, N.Y. visited Anne Fox recently. Gertrude Hutchins attended lunch at the school on Tuesday.

Anne Fox went shopping with Marjorie McGuire on Wednesday.

Callers at Florence Hall's on Tuesday were niece, Stacy Thompson, Rumford and nephew, Louis Hall, Roxbury on Tuesday.

Louise Powell, Hale and Bernice Wing, Dixfield visited Alma Hewey.

Tenants at Elderwood Manor had no reason to be concerned, and were not, about the water problems at the Post Office.

Thought of the day: Invitations to a class reunion have sent more people to weight-loss clinics than any physician.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

The Bethel Senior Citizens met Nov. 11 at the Congregational Church in Bethel with 53 present. President Helen Saunders conducted the business meeting. Sarah Stevens reported 100 members under 80, 22 over 80. Reports were read and approved.

Birthdays celebrated were Ruby Rolfe, Marion Swan, Mansfield Packard, Ethel Ward, Tony Pugliese, Eleanor Pugliese, Norris Brown, Rose Taylor, Richard Carler, Virginia Keniston, Ernest Angevine, and Hulda Stevens.

Two pairs of home-knit socks were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Royer and raffled off by Joan Royer. Helen Saunders got the lucky number.

Virginia Walker of the nominating committee reported the new slate of officers for 1993 as follows: president--Helen Saunders, vice president--Harold Powell, secretary--Mrs. Barbara Brown, treasurer--Sarah Stevens, sunshine committee--Muriel Faudi, finance committee--Earl Paine, program committee--Lindley Wieden, fund-raising committee--Rudy and Joan Royer.

Lindley Wieden reported the Christmas party will be Friday, Dec. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the Congregational Church. There will be a gift exchange with women bringing a gift for a woman and men a gift for

Welcome to our newest member, Wild Rose, Main Street, Bethel, Litty Parker, owner. Litty has just moved her location to join True North and Mt. Mann at the Maine Street Place. Best of luck to Litty!

All chamber members and friends are invited to two upcoming events: a Business After Hours on Monday, Nov. 30 at the new Riverbend Condominium project on the Sunday River Road in Bethel. Owners Bill and Mary Dunton would like to share their newest addition with us between the times of 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The second event to put on your calendars is what is becoming a tradition, a Chamber Christmas Party at the Sudbury Inn on Sunday evening, Dec. 13. Keep your eyes out for details on time, etc.

The newly updated and improved Bethel Region brochure is approaching stages of completion. Many thanks to member Jose Azel of Maine Light Studios in Lovell who donated his time and photography for a new cover. Did you all know that we have a world renowned photographer in our midst? Jose has done a great deal of work during his career for National Geographic, Smithsonian, Time and other National magazines. He would be happy to show you his work and is interested in doing more work in this area. Other credits for the brochure go to Sharon McNeill, staff photographer for Sunday River Ski Resort. Sharon has helped us out a lot in the past month--the pictures on the Bethelopoly Board are also hers.

The Board of Directors met for our regular monthly meeting last Thursday, Nov. 12. We are working on the budget for the 1993 fiscal year. We are also considering a Marketing fee for all tourism related businesses. More on this forthcoming.

Many thanks goes to volunteers who worked so hard at the Boston Ski Show this past weekend. They include coordinator, Bill Riley, Tricia, Larry and Pinky of the Sudbury Inn, Bill Dunton, Bernie and Debbie Michaud and Paula Mich-niewicz. A debt of gratitude to Sunday River--Reggie and John for helping us out with the backdrop display. The word is out--folks are anxious to come to the Bethel Area to ski this winter.

Congratulations to the winners of the Legislative races in this region: Al Barth, Ida Luther, Rick Bennett, Brenda Birney, and Dana Hanley. We look forward to working with these folks in the next Legislative session to represent our members' interests in Augusta.

Contact the chamber office if you are going to purchase the required posting documents to comply with the American for Disabilities Act. We can purchase them in bulk at a savings.

We invite all members of the business community to come to or send at least one employee to the upcoming Customer Relations Workshop, to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 1 at the West Parish Congregational Church meeting area. There will be two sessions, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Trainer Patricia Williams will be leading this workshop. More details forthcoming.

Rotary Club notes

The Tuesday Nov. 3 meeting was the monthly club assembly and was held at the Masonic Hall on Chapman Street where Rotary will be meeting through mid December. Eastern Star members prepared a delicious breakfast.

The Nominating Committee was appointed and is made up of the following Rotarians: Chairman Rick Whitney, Jim Sysko, Nancy Harrison, Scott Dennis and Roger Conant. They will submit a slate of officers for the 1993-94 year by the Jan. 1 meeting.

The following is a list of upcoming community service activities: Sunday, Nov. 29: country breakfast at Gould Academy Dining Hall, to benefit the Scholarship Fund; ongoing until Nov. 27: citrus sale to benefit the youth exchange; Tuesday, Dec. 15, Senior Citizen luncheon; Dec. 22, distribution of the food baskets.

The Board of Directors voted to set up a Memorial Fund called the Rollie Glines Memorial Technical Assistance Award.

Dick Fain read some interesting statistics on critical events in the world's history which were affected by just one vote.

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOCIETY OPEN HOUSE

The Woodstock Historical Society held its first open house, at the museum on Sunday, Nov. 8. Members were on hand to give information on items, and refreshments were served.

The historical museum is growing with many items to tickle the viewer's memory of days gone by.

Historical society meetings are held each month on the second Saturday at 7 p.m.

Just Imagine Coffee House

Back this year to perform at the Just Imagine Coffee House is the popular duo from Rumford, Clover. Linda Blackman and Elaine Michaud have continued their growth as a musical duo and continue to entertain their audiences with their interpretations of many familiar pieces as well as some original music.

Just Imagine Coffee House opens its door at 7 p.m. on Nov. 21 in the basement meeting room of the West Parish Congregational Church. Refreshments will be available at modest prices, and as always, there will be time set aside for "open mike." A donation of $3 per person ($1.50 for seniors) is requested to support the artists.

We are always looking for more help, and anyone interested should contact Jan Todd at 824-3209 in Bethel.

Looking ahead, scheduled artists are Jim Gallant on Dec. 5 and Ann Dodson on Jan. 2.

Jackson-Silver Post

Members of the Jackson-Silver Post #68 American Legion met at their hall along with members of the Auxiliary to honor the Veterans of all wars, Veteran's Day, Nov. 11, 1992.

Members of the Telstar Band, along with their leader, Harry Davis, played two opening patriotic songs to begin the observance and closed with the National Anthem.

Mrs. Rebecca Lawrence and Mrs. Deborah Grant of the Church of the Nazarene, Bethel sang "God Bless America" with everyone joining in on the chorus.

The main part of the program was committed to individual veterans making remarks about their experience in the various wars.

Mrs. Fannie Cummings, past president of the Auxiliary, representing her departed husband Alanson Cummings along with comrade Philip Day of the Bethel Legion Post #81 who gave a brief statement of combat in World War I. It was a special privilege to have him with us at the age of 94. One of the few remaining World War I Veterans, the only one living in Oxford County.

Comrade Roland Lord spoke of his experiences in Europe, World War II. Comrade Delwin Wilson mentioned his term of duty in Viet Nam, while James Cobb Jr. told of his duty as a truck driver in the most recent war, now referred to as Desert Storm in Arabia. James is still in the active Army Reserve Co. stationed in Auburn.

It was good to hear from Pastor John Grant, newly called Pastor of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene, tell of his unusual experience as a US Navy veteran, as a prisoner of war along with other members of the crew of USS Pueblo, by the North Koreans in 1967, for 11 months. He ended his remarks by saying he would be covering this experience along with pictures and type of food served them, at his church on Sunday, Nov. 22 at 6 p.m.

It was good to have members of the Boy Scout Troop #565, Bethel with Scoutmaster Mark Wiggly along with us as well as Cub Scouts along with their leader Jim Chandler. They always stand during the entire observance, no matter how long they are.

Also appreciated the presence of Post Firing Squad, although not used at this particular service indoors.

THANKSGIVING WORSHIP

Churches of Bethel and the surrounding area have invited the community to a service of Thanksgiving on Wednesday, Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. The service, planned by the Bethel Area Clergy Association, will be held at the United Methodist Church on Main Street in Bethel.

Child care will be offered, and a time of fellowship will follow the service. Those who wish to sing in a choir are invited to rehearse at 6:15.

Welcome to our newest member, Wild Rose, Main Street, Bethel, Litty Parker, owner. Litty has just moved her location to join True North and Mt. Mann at the Maine Street Place. Best of luck to Litty!

All chamber members and friends are invited to two upcoming events: a Business After Hours on Monday, Nov. 30 at the new Riverbend Condominium project on the Sunday River Road in Bethel. Owners Bill and Mary Dunton would like to share their newest addition with us between the times of 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The second event to put on your calendars is what is becoming a tradition, a Chamber Christmas Party at the Sudbury Inn on Sunday evening, Dec. 13. Keep your eyes out for details on time, etc.

The newly updated and improved Bethel Region brochure is approaching stages of completion. Many thanks to member Jose Azel of Maine Light Studios in Lovell who donated his time and photography for a new cover. Did you all know that we have a world renowned photographer in our midst? Jose has done a great deal of work during his career for National Geographic, Smithsonian, Time and other National magazines. He would be happy to show you his work and is interested in doing more work in this area. Other credits for the brochure go to Sharon McNeill, staff photographer for Sunday River Ski Resort. Sharon has helped us out a lot in the past month--the pictures on the Bethelopoly Board are also hers.

The Board of Directors met for our regular monthly meeting last Thursday, Nov. 12. We are working on the budget for the 1993 fiscal year. We are also considering a Marketing fee for all tourism related businesses. More on this forthcoming.

Many thanks goes to volunteers who worked so hard at the Boston Ski Show this past weekend. They include coordinator, Bill Riley, Tricia, Larry and Pinky of the Sudbury Inn, Bill Dunton, Bernie and Debbie Michaud and Paula Mich-niewicz. A debt of gratitude to Sunday River--Reggie and John for helping us out with the backdrop display. The word is out--folks are anxious to come to the Bethel Area to ski this winter.

Congratulations to the winners of the Legislative races in this region: Al Barth, Ida Luther, Rick Bennett, Brenda Birney, and Dana Hanley. We look forward to working with these folks in the next Legislative session to represent our members' interests in Augusta.

Contact the chamber office if you are going to purchase the required posting documents to comply with the American for Disabilities Act. We can purchase them in bulk at a savings.

We invite all members of the business community to come to or send at least one employee to the upcoming Customer Relations Workshop, to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 1 at the West Parish Congregational Church meeting area. There will be two sessions, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. Trainer Patricia Williams will be leading this workshop. More details forthcoming.

NEWLY ORDAINED--Rev. Pastor Nathan B. Seckinger holding Ethan and Joyce Seckinger with Jedidiah.

Rev. Seckinger ordained

On Sunday, Oct. 18, at the Bethel Alliance Church, Rev. Nathan B. Seckinger was ordained. The ordination sermon was given by his father, Rev. Dahl Seckinger from Michigan. The important charge he gave to his son was to, above all, be a "Man of God."

Others participating in the ceremony were the Rev. C.W. Clarke, Rev. Stanley J. Lemon, Rev. Guy R. Thompson, and the Rev. Bruce W. Bliss. Judy Webster played the piano.

The vows of ordination were given by the moderator, Rev. C.W. Clarke, the superintendent of the New England District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance churches.

Rev. Seckinger, his wife Joyce, and their two sons, Ethan and Jedidiah, live on Paradise Road.

FORMER POW TO SPEAK

Rev. John Grant, pastor of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene, will share his experiences as a prisoner of war in a special service to be held at the church on Nov. 22 at 6 p.m.

Rev. Grant was a crew member aboard the USS Pueblo (AGER-2), the American intelligence ship that was captured by North Korea in Jan. of 1968. The crew was held prisoner for 11 months.

Rev. Grant will speak about his time aboard the Pueblo and will show some mementos of his experiences. He will also display a sample of a typical meal as it was served to him by the North Koreans.

The service is open to the public and there is no admission fee; however, a regular church offering will be taken.
